God Bless Frank Ryan for his generosity in helping the children of Good Sheperd Services.By CustomerI have read frank's book and his story and dedication to making our country better is very inspiring. I have had the pleasure to meet and get to know frank personally. His dedication to good shepherd services and what he desires to accomplish for these young children is incredible. I am a CPA like frank and it has been my privilege to have attended many seminars he has taught. Once you hear Frank, you can understand his passion for good shepherd services and how he wants to help all of his fellow man. So therefore, it is no surprise to have read a great book and hear of his determination to walk across our great country to help those with greater needs than almost all of us. Frank is one of the most interesting and inspiring people you could ever meet and most of us would aspire to leave our legacy as he will leave. This book should inspire each of us to work to help someone in greater need to leave our world a better place. At 62 years of age, what frank did in walking across the country and his desire to help those so much less fortunate is a feat we can all admire. Frank, your book is wonderful and your heart to help those less fortunate is even greater.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Lessons learned that we all can use, in a story we all need to readBy CustomerThe book is an uplifting story about one man's journey to walk across America. In addition to the details and logistics of the trip, he shares his personal ups and downs of each day, week, steps and miles. You'll hear about the bad days, of blisters, heat, and uphill terrain and how he got through it with the support of his friends, family, and faith. You'll hear about the good days where he meets the most giving and loving strangers. And you'll learn about the reason for the walk, to share the story of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd and their work with emotional and behavioral issues and for developmentally disabled children. The diary is filled with lessons learned that can be applied to everyday life and will remind you of what is truly important in this world.The book is a testament to what one can accomplish with will and dedication. It will inspire to do something more in your life!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. An inspiring journal filled with Life Lessons LearnedBy Robert J.Life Lessons Learned is an inspiring journal motivated by a desire to bring awareness to the unmet mental heath needs of our nation's children and a personal spiritual journey across the United States as a walk of atonement and gratitude. Frank Ryan captured the daily interactions with the people he met, the beauty and grandeur of the country and the physical challenges of a walk across America. His experiences and his reflections captured in each of the Life Lessons Learned helped me pause, reflect and appreciate. Thank you Frank Ryan for your gift of Life Lessons Learned and the awareness you bring of the needs of children with emotional and behavioral issues and developmental disabilities.

About the Author From very humble beginnings starting with the death of his dad at age three and due to his loving family, Frank Ryan understood the value of hard work and the challenges so many people like him face in life. That understanding led Frank to dedicate his life to public service as a volunteer. He has served on numerous boards of directors of nonprofit charitable organizations. In March 2008, he was elected chair of the board of directors of Good Shepherd Services, a residential treatment facility for children facing challenges in their lives. It is that love for the mission of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd that led Frank to walk 2,806 miles across America in 2014 to raise awareness of the needs of children with emotional and behavioral issues and for developmentally disabled children. He is a CPA, author, commentator, and expert in corporate restructurings and management. Frank is a Pennsylvania CPA, a Knight of Malta, and a graduate of Mount Saint Mary's College, with an MBA from the University of Maryland. Frank Ryan, a retired marine reserve colonel, was recalled to active duty, out of his military retirement, in December 2004 and served with Multi-National Force Iraq until June 2005. Prior to his initial retirement in 2002, Frank served as the central command special operations officer during Operation Enduring Freedom. His personal military decorations include three Legions of Merit, the Bronze Star Medal, the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Navy Commendation Medal, and the US Army Commendation Medal.
